CONSTRUCTION SITE SECURITY

Perhaps more than any other endeavor, construction sites require the ability to stay within budget to be successful. A key element is the ability to minimize losses due to theft, vandalism, and liability. ASTAI provides construction site security solutions that limit access to construction sites and give our clients the best protection for their budget.

At ASTAI, we have experience addressing security for construction sites. Our excellent rapport with local law enforcement agencies allows us to work closely with them to optimize the security of construction sites. We know that the biggest threats to a construction site include:

Theft of supplies and equipment

Theft of services by contractors and subcontractors

Liability created by trespassers

Fire

Vandalism

Work interruption due to protesters or labor conflicts

We begin with a risk analysis and create a site-specific security operations plan. Our integrated solutions deploy highly trained, registered officers either armed/unarmed to address your location. All our construction site security officers comply with OSHA regulations. Depending upon risk assessment, can provide:
